

- Hello
- I'm Fenal Roy
- I hold a Bachelor's degree in B.com from R.V. Patel College Of Commerce & V.L.Shah college of commerce (College in Surat, Gujarat)
- Currently, I'm a learning Diploma in software testing and Automation course form Tops Technologies Surat.
- I'm known for my strong analytical skills, creativity, and passion for problem-solving. I thrive in dynamic environments where I can tackle challenges head-on and find innovative solutions. My ability to think critically and approach problems from different angles has been instrumental in my academic and professional endeavours.
- I chose a career path in technology because I believe it offers endless opportunities for growth, innovation, and making a meaningful impact on society. I'm excited to be part of an industry that is constantly evolving and shaping the future, and I'm eager to contribute my skills and expertise to further advancements in technology.
